

equality before the law

freedom and equality rights and freedoms for all life, liberty and security ban on slavery and servitude ban on torture

recognition of the legal personality asylum

legal assistance

ban on arbitrary detention fair and public

presumption of innocence private and family life domestic and international freedom of movement social security

nationality

marriage equality and protection of the family private property

freedom of thought, conscience and religion freedom of opinion and expression freedom of assembly and association democratic participation work and right to unionisation rest and leisure

health and well-being education

culture

social and international order community

